

Commercial Font Software End User Licence Agreement

Version 1.00 / Effective date: 22 July 2026

This Commercial Font Software End User Licence Agreement ("Agreement") is between Jonathan Quinton, a sole trader trading as Quinton Type in England and Wales ("Quinton Type"), and the person, business or organisation named as the Licence Holder in the applicable Licence Schedule ("Licence Holder").

The Agreement governs the commercial Font Software supplied under the order.

The Agreement, Licence Schedule and applicable Order Confirmation, Invoice or Purchase Receipt together form the agreement relating to the licensed Font Software. Any separately agreed Custom Licence terms also form part of the agreement.

By accepting this Agreement during checkout, downloading, installing or using the Font Software, the Licence Holder agrees to be bound by it.

Where a purchaser buys a licence for a client or another organisation, the purchaser confirms that they have authority to accept this Agreement on behalf of the named Licence Holder. The licence belongs to the Licence Holder and not necessarily to the person who placed or paid for the order.

If the purchaser does not have authority to accept this Agreement for the Licence Holder, the Font Software must not be downloaded, installed or used.

1. Definitions

1.1 Font Software

"Font Software" means the font files and related software supplied by Quinton Type, including any static or variable OTF, TTF, WOFF2 or other font files identified in the Licence Schedule. Font Software includes updates or replacement files supplied for the same licensed typeface and styles, unless Quinton Type states otherwise.

1.2 Licence Holder

"Licence Holder" means the person, business or organisation named as the licence holder in the Licence Schedule or other applicable order documentation. The licence belongs exclusively to the Licence Holder and may not be transferred except with Quinton Type's prior written agreement.

1.3 Purchaser

"Purchaser" means the person, business or organisation that places or pays for the order. The Purchaser and Licence Holder may be the same party. Where they are different, the Purchaser does not acquire any independent right to use the Font Software except as expressly allowed under Section 7.

1.4 Licence Schedule

"Licence Schedule" means the document issued by Quinton Type that records the specific scope of the licence, including, where applicable: the Licence Holder; the licensed typeface and styles; the company-size tier; the permitted licence channels; the number of Domains or Apps; the applicable EULA version; the order reference; and any additional limitations or agreed terms.

1.5 Authorised User

"Authorised User" means an owner, partner, director, employee or individual contractor working for the Licence Holder who reasonably requires access to the Font Software for work carried out within the licensed scope.

1.6 Company Size

"Company Size" means the total cumulative number of people working for the Licence Holder and any parent company, subsidiary or corporate affiliate under common control. This includes owners, partners, directors, employees and regular long-term contractors, whether full-time or part-time. The relevant Company Size is the total organisation size, not merely the size of a particular design, marketing or production team.

1.7 Desktop Licence

"Desktop Licence" means the right described in Section 4.

1.8 Web Licence

"Web Licence" means the right described in Section 5.

1.9 App Licence

"App Licence" means the right described in Section 6.

1.10 Domain

"Domain" means one distinct registered domain name. Subdomains and development, staging or local-testing environments used solely in connection with the same website are included within that Domain. A different registered domain name counts as a separate Domain, including a corresponding domain using a different country-code or top-level domain.

1.11 App

"App" means one distinct: mobile application; desktop application; game; electronic publication title, including an ePub or equivalent digital publication; or other installable or distributable software product identified in the Licence Schedule.

Versions, updates, platform editions and file-format versions of substantially the same product count as the same App. Each separately titled electronic publication counts as one App. Revised editions, updates, Kindle editions, ePub editions and other file-format or platform versions of substantially the same title count as the same App. A separately titled publication counts as another App.

A separately branded or functionally distinct software product also counts as another App.

A publishing platform, subscription service, digital library or system that distributes multiple separate publications is not covered as a single App and requires separate App entitlements or a Custom Licence.

A browser-based service or web application is not automatically covered by an App Licence and may require a Web Licence or Custom Licence.

1.12 Static Output

"Static Output" means fixed output that does not make the Font Software available for extraction, installation or independent reuse.

Examples include: printed material; outlined artwork; flattened images; rendered video; packaging; signage; and appropriately secured PDF documents.

1.13 Service Provider

"Service Provider" means a designer, agency, developer, production company or other contractor that is given temporary access to the Font Software solely to perform licensed work for the Licence Holder.

1.14 Merchant of Record

"Merchant of Record" means the third-party business identified during checkout that administers payment, taxation, receipts and eligible refunds for the order.

2. Licence grant and scope

2.1 General grant

Once the applicable fee has been paid in full, Quinton Type grants the Licence Holder a non-exclusive, worldwide, perpetual and non-transferable licence to use the supplied Font Software strictly within the scope recorded in the Licence Schedule.

The licence may be ended in accordance with Section 14.

2.2 Licensed rights

The rights granted are limited to: the typeface and styles listed in the Licence Schedule; the licensed Company Size tier; the Desktop, Web and App channels shown in the Licence Schedule; the recorded number of Domains and Apps; and any other stated limitations.

Possession of a font file does not grant a right to use it outside the recorded licence scope.

2.3 Combined licences

A Licence Holder may hold more than one licence channel under the same Licence Schedule.

For example, a Licence Schedule may grant Desktop and Web rights together. Rights under one channel do not automatically include another channel.

2.4 Packages and discounts

Package pricing and promotional discounts affect the amount paid but do not create additional rights beyond those stated in the Licence Schedule.

Buying a family package does not automatically grant every licence channel. Each intended use must be covered by the relevant Desktop, Web or App Licence.

2.5 Rights not granted

All rights not expressly granted by this Agreement or the Licence Schedule are reserved by Quinton Type.

2.6 Agreement priority

If the agreement documents conflict, they apply in the following order: separately agreed written Custom Licence terms; the Licence Schedule; this Agreement; the Order Confirmation, Invoice or Purchase Receipt.

A transaction document may confirm payment or order information but does not expand the licensed rights unless it expressly states that it does so.

2.7 Agreement version

The version of this Agreement identified in the Licence Schedule applies to the licence. A later version of the Agreement will not change an existing licence unless: the Licence Holder agrees to the new version; a later upgrade expressly incorporates the new version; or a change is required by law and may lawfully apply to the existing agreement.

3. Company Size and licence upgrades

3.1 Company Size tier

The Company Size tier recorded in the Licence Schedule must cover the Licence Holder's actual Company Size. The Company Size tier applies to the whole Licence Holder organisation and the connected entities included in the definition of Company Size.

3.2 Growth beyond the tier

The licence does not expire when the Licence Holder grows, but an upgrade is required when the Licence Holder exceeds the licensed Company Size tier. The Licence Holder must notify Quinton Type and purchase the required upgrade within 14 days after exceeding the tier.

3.3 Other upgrades

An upgrade is also required before the Licence Holder: uses the Font Software through an additional licence channel; uses the Font Software on an additional Domain; embeds it in an additional App; uses additional styles; or begins any other use outside the existing Licence Schedule.

The Licence Holder must obtain the upgrade before beginning the additional use unless Quinton Type agrees otherwise in writing.

A change of Licence Holder is not an ordinary licence upgrade and requires Quinton Type's prior written consent under Section 17.2.

3.4 Upgrade pricing

Quinton Type will confirm the cost of an upgrade before payment is taken.

The upgrade price will normally be calculated by reference to the difference between the then-current direct prices of the existing licence and the required licence for the same Font Software.

Quinton Type may take account of amounts previously paid directly for the same licence. Purchases through third-party marketplaces are not automatically eligible for a direct-sale credit.

3.5 Revised Licence Schedule

After an upgrade has been paid for, Quinton Type may issue a revised Licence Schedule recording the Licence Holder's complete current licence position.

The revised Licence Schedule may supersede an earlier Licence Schedule, but the earlier Schedule and order record remain part of the historical transaction record.

3.6 Verification

Upon reasonable written notice, Quinton Type may request information reasonably necessary to confirm: the Licence Holder's Company Size; the number of Domains or Apps using the Font Software; and whether use remains within the licensed scope.

Any request will be limited to information reasonably relevant to licence compliance.

4. Desktop Licence

4.1 Permitted installation and use

A Desktop Licence permits the supplied OTF and TTF Font Software to be installed on devices controlled by the Licence Holder and used by its Authorised Users.

Use is limited to the Company Size tier and styles recorded in the Licence Schedule.

4.2 Permitted work

The Font Software may be used in desktop design, editing and production applications to create Static Output, including: brand identities; logos and wordmarks; publications; books and magazines; stationery; packaging; merchandise; clothing; advertising; posters; signage; presentations; social-media graphics; digital documents; film titles and credits; motion graphics; broadcast content; streaming content; and rendered video.

There is no separate print-run or production-quantity limit unless one is stated in the Licence Schedule or Custom Licence terms.

4.3 Logos and trade marks

A Desktop Licence permits the Licence Holder to create logos, wordmarks and other static brand marks using the Font Software. The resulting logo, wordmark or brand mark may be used commercially and may be submitted for trade-mark registration.

The Licence Holder may outline, redraw, adapt or customise lettering within the resulting static logo or wordmark artwork. This permission applies only to the resulting artwork and does not permit modification of the Font Software itself.

Registration or ownership of the resulting logo, wordmark or brand mark does not give the Licence Holder ownership of, or exclusive rights in: the Font Software; the underlying typeface design; the complete character set; individual unmodified glyphs; the typeface family name; or other designs created independently using the same typeface.

The Licence Holder must not apply to register the Font Software, the typeface family name, substantially all of the typeface design or individual unmodified glyphs as its own intellectual property.

A request for an exclusive customised wordmark, modified font file, bespoke glyph set or assignment of custom design rights requires separately agreed Custom Licence or design terms.

4.4 Documents and PDF embedding

Font Software may be embedded in PDF documents where the embedding is reasonably intended for viewing, printing or normal document use and is not used as a method of distributing the Font Software.

The Licence Holder must take reasonable steps to prevent recipients from extracting or independently installing the embedded Font Software.

A recipient who needs to edit a document using live Font Software must hold an appropriate Desktop Licence or be permitted temporary access under Section 7.

4.5 Desktop exclusions

A Desktop Licence does not permit: live text on a website; embedding in an App; use in an editable template offered to third parties; use in a font-hosting or font-serving system; use in a product that enables unlicensed users to create new content with the Font Software; or any use requiring a Web, App or Custom Licence.

5. Web Licence

5.1 Permitted web use

A Web Licence permits the supplied WOFF2 Font Software to be self-hosted and used as live, selectable text on the number of Domains recorded in the Licence Schedule.

5.2 Included environments

The Web Licence includes: pages and subdirectories within the licensed Domain; subdomains belonging to the licensed Domain; responsive versions of the same website; development and staging environments for that website; and local testing environments not accessible as a separate public website.

5.3 Separate Domains

Each unrelated registered domain name requires a separate Domain entitlement.
The Font Software may not be linked or served across unlicensed Domains.

5.4 Domain replacement

Where a licensed Domain is permanently replaced, the Licence Holder may request a one-for-one Domain update by contacting Quinton Type and providing: the order reference; the existing Domain; and the replacement Domain.

The existing and replacement Domains may overlap for up to 30 days after Quinton Type confirms the change. After that period, the existing Domain must stop using the Font Software.

A second simultaneously operating Domain requires an additional Domain entitlement.

5.5 File format and hosting

Only webfont files supplied or expressly approved by Quinton Type may be placed online.

OTF, TTF or other desktop font formats must not be uploaded to a publicly accessible web server.
The Licence Holder must use reasonable technical measures to prevent the Font Software from being deliberately presented or offered as a downloadable file.

5.6 Developer and hosting access

The Licence Holder may give a developer, hosting provider or other Service Provider temporary access to the webfont files solely to deploy and maintain them on a licensed Domain.

The Licence Holder remains responsible for that Service Provider's use. The Service Provider must not reuse the Font Software for another customer or project and must delete its copies when access is no longer required.

5.7 Web exclusions

A Web Licence does not permit use in: a font-hosting or font-distribution service; an editable design platform; an online template service; a website that enables visitors to generate unrestricted downloadable artwork; a system that makes the Font Software available to unrelated third parties; or another product or service requiring a Custom Licence.

6. App Licence

6.1 Permitted embedding

An App Licence permits the supplied OTF or TTF Font Software to be embedded in the number of Apps recorded in the Licence Schedule.

The embedding must be solely for displaying text or other licensed visual content within the App.

6.2 App count

Each separately branded or functionally distinct product counts as a separate App. Updates, new versions and platform editions of substantially the same App are included, provided they remain part of the same product.

Each separately published electronic publication or ePub title counts as a separate App unless the Licence Schedule states otherwise.

6.3 Protection from extraction

The Licence Holder must take reasonable technical steps to prevent embedded Font Software from being: extracted; separately downloaded; installed outside the App; or reused for another product.

6.4 Developer access

The Licence Holder may give an App developer or other Service Provider temporary access to the Font Software solely to embed and maintain it within a licensed App.

The Licence Holder remains responsible for that Service Provider's use. The Service Provider must delete its working copies when they are no longer required.

6.5 App exclusions

An App Licence does not permit an App or service to: give users access to the underlying font files; allow users to install or export the Font Software; act as a font library or font-hosting service; generate unrestricted editable templates or downloadable designs; make the Font Software available for use outside the App; or operate as a design or authoring platform unless covered by a Custom Licence.

7. Client work and Service Providers

7.1 Client as Licence Holder

Where a licence is purchased for a client, the client named in the Licence Schedule is the Licence Holder. The purchasing designer, agency or other Service Provider may use the Font Software only: to perform work for that Licence Holder; during the period in which access is reasonably needed; and within the scope recorded in the Licence Schedule.

7.2 No reuse

A purchaser or Service Provider may not reuse the Font Software: for itself; for another client; for internal promotional work unrelated to the Licence Holder; or for any purpose outside the licensed project or relationship. Each different client must hold its own appropriate licence.

7.3 Client documentation

The Purchaser must give the Licence Holder access to: this Agreement; the Licence Schedule; and any relevant order documentation.

7.4 Temporary access

The Licence Holder may permit a Service Provider to access the Font Software only where access is reasonably necessary for licensed work.

The Service Provider must: be informed of the relevant restrictions; keep the files secure; use them only for the Licence Holder; not retain them for future work; and delete all copies when its work ends, unless it holds a separate licence.

The Licence Holder remains responsible for the acts and omissions of its Service Providers in connection with the Font Software.

7.5 Static files for production

Static Output may be supplied to printers, manufacturers, broadcasters, publishers and other production suppliers without those parties acquiring a font licence.

Font files should not be supplied where appropriately prepared Static Output is sufficient.

8. General restrictions

Except where this Agreement expressly permits it, the Licence Holder must not: sell, sublicense, rent, lend, give away or redistribute the Font Software; transfer the licence to another person or organisation; place the Font Software in a public repository or shared asset library; allow an unlicensed party to obtain or use it; use the Font Software outside the licensed Company Size or licence channels; modify, adapt, rename or translate the Font Software; add or remove glyphs or features; convert it into another font format; change embedding permissions or copyright notices; decompile, disassemble, decrypt or reverse engineer it; create derivative font software from it; use it in open-source software in a manner that could require disclosure or redistribution of the Font Software; or use it unlawfully or in a way that infringes another party's rights.

These restrictions do not prevent: outlining or rasterising text; creating Static Output; or doing anything that applicable law expressly permits and does not allow the parties to restrict.

Any modification, customisation, conversion or technical adaptation of the Font Software requires Quinton Type's prior written permission.

9. Artificial intelligence and machine learning

The Font Software must not be used as training input for an artificial intelligence, machine-learning or generative system.

This includes using the Font Software, its source data or extracted letterforms to: train or fine-tune a model; imitate or reconstruct the typeface; generate substitute font software; generate typeface designs; create datasets of glyphs or letterforms; or enable a system to reproduce the Font Software or substantially similar designs.

This restriction does not prohibit the ordinary creation of Static Output using software that contains ancillary artificial-intelligence features, provided the Font Software itself is not supplied as training material or made available for extraction.

10. Storage, copies and security

The Licence Holder may make a reasonable number of backup copies and may store the Font Software on secure systems under its control.

Access must be limited to Authorised Users and permitted Service Providers.

The Licence Holder must use reasonable organisational and technical safeguards to prevent unauthorised access, copying or distribution.

If an Authorised User or Service Provider stops working for the Licence Holder, that party must delete all copies in its possession unless it holds another valid licence.

The Licence Holder should notify Quinton Type promptly if it becomes aware of a material unauthorised disclosure of the Font Software.

All backup and working copies remain subject to this Agreement.

11. Ownership

Quinton Type retains all ownership and intellectual-property rights in: the Font Software; the typeface designs; the structure and code of the Font Software; the family and style names; and all associated font data.

The Licence Holder receives permission to use the Font Software. It does not purchase or acquire ownership of it.

The Licence Holder owns its own original creative work and Static Output, subject to Quinton Type's continuing ownership of the Font Software and typeface design.

No rights are granted except those expressly stated in this Agreement.

12. Digital delivery, purchaser capacity, cancellation and refunds

12.1 Digital supply

The Font Software is supplied as downloadable digital content.

Delivery may begin shortly after payment has been completed and the order has been accepted.

12.2 Purchaser capacity

During checkout, the Purchaser may be asked whether the purchase is being made: wholly or mainly for business or professional purposes; or mainly for personal purposes.

A business or professional purchase includes a purchase made for: a business or organisation; an employer; a client; freelance work; self-employed work; or another trade, craft or professional activity.

This declaration is used to present the appropriate checkout information and create an accurate order record. A person's statutory status is determined by applicable law. Selecting the business or professional option does not remove mandatory consumer rights where the Purchaser or Licence Holder legally qualifies as a consumer.

12.3 Immediate delivery for consumers

Where the Purchaser is acting as a consumer and requests delivery before the end of an applicable cancellation period, delivery will begin only after the consumer: expressly consents to the immediate supply of the digital Font Software; and acknowledges that the right to cancel will be lost once supply begins, to the extent provided by applicable law.

The consumer's consent and acknowledgement will be recorded during checkout and retained with the order. The contract confirmation will include confirmation that immediate supply was requested and that the consumer gave the required consent and acknowledgement.

12.4 Statutory rights

Nothing in this Agreement limits any right or remedy that cannot lawfully be excluded or restricted. This includes applicable consumer rights where digital content: is not of satisfactory quality; is not fit for a purpose made known to the supplier; does not match its description; or is supplied without the necessary right to do so.

12.5 Refunds

Because the Font Software is downloadable digital content, discretionary refunds are not normally offered after the files have been downloaded, accessed or used.

This does not affect: mandatory consumer rights; remedies for defective, incomplete or incorrectly supplied Font Software; refunds required by law; or any refund accepted and administered by the Merchant of Record.

12.6 Effect of cancellation or refund

Where an order is validly cancelled or fully refunded, the corresponding licence ends and the Licence Holder must: stop using the affected Font Software; delete all copies under its control; and ensure that relevant Authorised Users and Service Providers delete their copies.

This does not apply to the extent that applicable law requires otherwise.

12.7 Delivery problems

If delivery fails or the supplied files are faulty, Quanton Type will use reasonable efforts to: restore access; repair or replace the files; or provide another appropriate remedy.

The Licence Holder is responsible for retaining secure backup copies after successful delivery.

13. Warranty and liability

13.1 Warranty

Quanton Type warrants that: it has the right to grant the licence; and the supplied Font Software will substantially perform as described when used in compatible, supported and reasonably current software. Quanton Type does not warrant that the Font Software will operate with every: device; operating system; application; production environment; or future software version.

13.2 Mandatory liability

Nothing in this Agreement excludes or limits liability where exclusion or limitation would be unlawful, including liability for: fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; death or personal injury caused by negligence; or statutory consumer rights and remedies that cannot be restricted.

13.3 Business Licence Holders

Where the Licence Holder is acting wholly or mainly for business purposes, Quanton Type will not, to the fullest extent permitted by law, be liable for: indirect or consequential loss; loss of profit; loss of revenue; loss of business; loss of anticipated savings; loss of data; or loss of goodwill.

Quanton Type's total aggregate liability relating to a particular licence will not exceed the amount paid for that licence under the applicable order.

13.4 Consumers

Where the Licence Holder is acting as a consumer, this Section applies only to the extent permitted by consumer law. Nothing in this Agreement prevents a consumer from recovering any loss for which Quanton Type is legally responsible.

14. Ending the licence

14.1 Ending by the Licence Holder

The Licence Holder may end the licence at any time by permanently deleting all copies of the Font Software and stopping all licensed use.

14.2 Ending for breach

Quanton Type may end the licence by written notice where the Licence Holder commits a material breach and does not correct it within 14 days after receiving notice describing the breach.

14.3 Immediate termination

Quanton Type may end the licence immediately by written notice where: the breach cannot reasonably be corrected; the Font Software has been intentionally redistributed or made publicly available; the licence was obtained fraudulently; continued use creates a material risk to Quanton Type's rights; or immediate termination is otherwise permitted by law.

14.4 Consequences

When the licence ends: all use of the affected Font Software must stop; all copies must be permanently deleted; Service Providers must also delete their copies; and the Licence Holder must not distribute further work that requires continued use of the Font Software.

Ending the licence does not affect: rights or liabilities that arose before termination; Quinton Type's ownership; payment obligations already due; or provisions intended to continue after termination.

15. Custom licensing

Written Custom Licence terms are required for uses including: server-based font generation; cloud font-serving systems; editable design platforms; user-generated-content systems; unrestricted template products; hardware embedding; original-equipment manufacture; operating systems; large-scale enterprise arrangements; software development kits; font redistribution; uses that expose the Font Software to end users; and any intended use not clearly covered by the standard Desktop, Web or App Licences.

Where agreed Custom Licence terms conflict with this Agreement, the Custom Licence terms take priority for the relevant use.

16. Third-party marketplaces

Where the Font Software is purchased through an authorised third-party marketplace, that marketplace's applicable licence or transaction terms may apply.

To the extent of a direct conflict, the marketplace terms take priority for that marketplace purchase. A licence purchased through a marketplace remains associated with that marketplace and is not automatically: transferred to a direct Quinton Type account; combined with a direct licence; credited against a direct upgrade; or replaced by this Agreement. Quinton Type may agree otherwise in writing.

17. General terms

17.1 Notices

A formal notice under this Agreement must be in writing. Notices to Quinton Type must be sent to: hello@quinton.xyz

Quinton Type may send notices to the email address recorded in the Licence Schedule or order documentation. An email is treated as received on the next business day after it is sent unless the sender receives a delivery-failure message.

17.2 Assignment

The Licence Holder may not assign, transfer, novate or otherwise dispose of this Agreement or licence without Quinton Type's prior written consent.

Quinton Type may assign, transfer or novate its rights and obligations in connection with a transfer of its business or the relevant Font Software, provided that this does not reduce the Licence Holder's existing rights.

17.3 Events beyond reasonable control

Neither party is responsible for delay or failure caused by circumstances beyond its reasonable control, except for an obligation to pay an amount properly due.

17.4 Severability

If any part of this Agreement is found to be invalid, unlawful or unenforceable, the remaining provisions continue in effect.

17.5 No waiver

A delay or failure to enforce a right does not waive that right.
A waiver applies only where it is given expressly in writing.

17.6 Entire agreement

This Agreement, the Licence Schedule, applicable order documentation and any written Custom Licence terms form the entire agreement relating to the licensed Font Software.

No additional or different term is binding unless agreed by Quinton Type in writing.

17.7 Governing law

This Agreement is governed by the laws of England and Wales. The courts of England and Wales have jurisdiction over disputes relating to it. Where the Licence Holder is a consumer, this does not remove any mandatory protection or right to bring proceedings available under the law of the consumer's home country.

17.8 Contact

Questions, upgrade requests and Custom Licence enquiries should be sent to: hello@quinton.xyz

17.9 Business identity

Quinton Type is operated by Jonathan Quinton, a sole trader trading as Quinton Type in England and Wales.
